

Neville Johnson have been designing unique fitted furniture for over 25 years for their discerning clients, their homes and their lifestyle. Whether you are looking for an innovative home study, a luxury bedroom, a stylish lounge, a library with acres of storage space or a ?state-of-the-art? home cinema room, we can create your perfect bespoke furniture. As the pioneers of home office furniture over 25 years ago, Neville Johnson is committed to providing handcrafted bespoke fitted furniture of the highest quality to perfectly meet your requirements. Every Neville Johnson study is individually designed and handcrafted with the utmost attention to detail, to maximize the available space, whatever the shape or size. Whether you require a dedicated working environment, storage for a huge collection of books or somewhere for all your paperwork, every aspect is carefully considered to ensure we achieve the optimum level of comfort, style and functionality.

?Our expert designers will guide you through our range of products to ascertain what style and finish you prefer. We will work with your room dimensions to produce an initial sketch of your furniture. The sketch is then worked up into a more detailed technical drawing for our workshop to refer to when building your furniture. The final result reveals the attention to detail that makes us the market leader in handcrafted bespoke furniture. From initial sketches to final polish, each step is planned meticulously to ensure you receive your furniture exactly how you imagined it.
